

ABOUT ME

I'm Full Stack Developer graduated from Henry Bootcamp oriented on Backend and also teacher of artistic education. I seek to collaborate and be part of a company in which I feel fully identified with its vision, its culture and its technological projects. I am passionate about what I do. and I'm looking for long-term job stability to grow as a programmer. My goal is to learn from a great team by participating and collaborating in innovative, original, creative and personalized projects, adding value and motivation from my role.
